Dear Mark:

I wanted to offer my input on how beneficial the “Carriers Edge” program is to my business.

In offering Risk Management services to several companies through RRM Risk Management Inc., one of my challenges includes getting quality training & information across to a large number of drivers over an even larger geography. In a traditional classroom style presentation, to achieve a consistent message on the information offered to the drivers, requires getting all the drivers together to receive the training. This method takes an extraordinary effort in logistics & time for both my company as well as my client’s company. The “Carriers Edge” on-line training program allows me to offer my clients quality training without the logistical & time constraints. This, along with the considerable cost savings, makes this a dynamite program.

I truly appreciate the help “Carriers Edge” has given me in offering a quality service to my clients as well as building the success of my business. A real “win-win” situation!!

Sincerely,

Roger Davis
